By virtue and authority of two general executions issued from the office of the clerk of the circuit court of Morgan county, Missouri, returnable at the August term, 1914, of said court, and to me directed, in favor of Maggie Lawrence and against Joseph L. Lawrence, I have levied upon and seized all the right, title, interest and claim of the said Joseph L. Lawrence of, in and to the following described real estate, to wit: The south half of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section thirteen (13), township forty (40), range seventeen (17), situated in Morgan county, Missouri, all lying and being in the said county, and State of Missouri, and I will, on Monday, the 10th day of August A. D. 1914 (it being the first day of the Circuit court of said county), between the hours of nine o'clock in the forenoon and five o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the court house door, in the City of Versailles, county of Morgan, aforesaid, sell the same, or so much thereof as may be required, at public venue, to the highest bidder, for cash in hand (subject to all prior liens and judgments), to satisfy said executions and costs.

W. J. WILLIAMS,
Sheriff of Morgan county, Mo.

W. Kavanaugh, trustee, all their right, title, interest and estate, in and to the following described real estate situated in the county of Morgan, state of Missouri, viz:

The Easiest Way

If you, the Grocer, re-adjust your scales
To give full sixteen ounces to the pound;
And you, the Lawyer, scorn the fairy tales
You tell to win the case you know unsound;
If you, the Doctor, frown on quackeries
And strive your best to practice as you frown—
Then we shall need few far-sought remedies
To better this condition here in town.
If you, the Statesman, quit your noisy rant
And be one-half the man you claim to be;
If you, the Preacher, cast away this cant
And empty creed, and hush Christ's "Follow me;"
If you, the Employer, will go back to work
And be a bee and not a useless drone;
And you, the Laborer, will strive not shirk—
I think we'll solve our troubles all alone.
If you, the Orator, will give us deeds
To thicken on the grid of your speech;
And you, the Gardener, will pull the weeds
And cleanse your field so far as you can reach;
If you, the Milkman, give us honest milk
And leave the all fat water in the well;
And you, the Agitator, and your ilk,
Will toil, not talk—we'll have few woes to tell.

If you, the Voter, will be just as clean
As you think every Government should be;
And you, the Officeholder, make the scene
Of your activities a joy to see;
If you, the Citizen, by every act
Will prove your loyalty to civic good—
Our ills will be in dreams much more than fact,
And Country will be nearly what it should.

If you, the Man, will strive to reach the plane
You claim you want the Nation rested on,
And you, the Dreamer, wake up now and gain
A place in the procession ere it's gone;
If you—just you, remember—cast the beam
From your eye—I pledge it, signed and sealed,
This life of ours would be one blessed dream,
And all the ills we suffer would be headed!

J. W. Foley, in Saturday Evening Post.

Woman Suffrage Notes (PRESS BULLETINS)

Anti-suffragists, it is supposed, are resorting to trickery to defeat the woman suffrage amendment in Missouri. The trick is an old one. The method being to place on the ballot an amendment providing for a fifty million dollar road bond issue. This would be so unpopular that voters might be induced to scratch all the amendments in order to defeat the bond issue. Verily the forces of suffrage opposition have disreputable methods.

Secretary Bryan has announced his belief in "Votes for Women." His reasons are excellent. He declared he wanted no rights he would not be willing to grant his wife. Above all arguments he placed the right of the mother to a voice in molding the environment of her children. "The mother," the Secretary said, "can justly claim the right to employ every effective weapon for the protection of those whose interests she guards, and the ballot will put within her reach all the instrumentalities of government, including the police power. As man and woman are co-tenants of the earth," the statement says, "and must work out their destiny together, the presumptuous is on the side of equality for treatment in all that pertains to their joint life and its opportunities. Why should any mother be denied the use of the franchise to safeguard the welfare of her child merely because another mother may not view her duty in the same light? Politics will not suffer by woman's entrance into it. If the political world has grown more pure in spite of evil influences that have operated to debase it, it will not be polluted by the presence and participation of woman. Neither should we doubt that woman can be trusted with the ballot. She has proven herself equal to every responsibility imposed upon her. She will not fail society in this emergency. Let her vote. And may that discernment which has throughout ages, ever enabled her to quickly grasp great truths, made her 'the last at the cross and the first at the sepulchre', so direct her in the discharge of her political duties as to add new glories to her and through her still further bless society."
